How to help someone with a burn

If someone is burnt by something hot, you can help them. First make sure that it's safe for you to help. If you can, make sure that the hot thing is safely out of the way. Quickly cool the burnt area with cold running water. You need to do this for at least ten minutes. Once the burn is cooled, cover it loosely with kitchen film or a plastic bag is good to cover a burnt hand. This will keep it clean and will help it hurt less. If you can then tell an adult or call 999 if you think the burn is serious.

Remember:

Cool it under running water for at least 10 minutes
